

Customer Success Story; A Director's View

With over a half century of experience in all aspects of construction & over a decade in property development, Walls is one of the most successful and respected in the Irish Construction industry.

“Never before had we such an insight into our site teams’ activity and performance, in real time. SENUBO allows us a bird’s eye view across multiple sites and in real time. It has opened up communication in a way we never thought possible. Data can be analysed and metrics made available as and when reports are generated, which has proved invaluable. Managing several sites simultaneously is more efficient and decisions are based on live events. It is the most effective communications platform we’ve seen.

Adrian Corcoran,
Construction
Director,
Walls Ltd.

SENUBO is an online platform which allows company networks and groups to communicate centrally using any device. Knowledge workers across multiple locations collaborate and respond in real time.

THE CHALLENGE...

- To enable engagement and communication between company levels & layers;
- Promote Knowledge management throughout the company
- Maintain Staff profiles;
- Keep a site diary, in real-time with visual supports; (photos, docs and drawings)
- Improve site safety and promote safety issues; ‘Great Catches’

...THE SOLUTION

- Provides a communications platform that allows real-time updates;
- Makes this platform accessible to the entire company population;
- Has the capability to produce reports and analytics;
- Socialises data and communication within the company;
- Export data so a site diary can be maintained.

THE DIFFERENCE ...

- Details are posted and reports made while we work;
- The tether to the site office has been cut and we can do this by phone, via sms or an any web enabled device;
- We immediately have a ‘bird’s eye view’ of current projects;
- This ease of access to the platform makes it a snap for users to post info & updates;
- Staff with years of experience can share their knowledge and know how, the entire company benefits;
- Site safety breeches are tagged and posted, everybody is aware actions are taken and this is noted by managers who can in-turn express their approval by ‘liking’ an action.

For more information and FREE trial visit
www.SENUBO.com